

IR BOMB-RACKS EMPTY, two Wapiti planes, flying at 2000 feet turn their noses towards Point Cooke after their aerial raid over Port Phillip Bay. They scored nine hits from 10,000 feet.

Bombing practice at Point Cook (spelt Point Cooke)

WAPITI PLANES FLYING AT 2000 FEET over Point Cooke after bombing manoeuvres in the Bay yesterday. This picture was secured from a Supermarine plane, which witnessed the raid from a lower altitude.

MEN WHO SANK THE "INVADERS" in Port Phillip Bay: — Flight Lieutenant L. J. Balderson, senior officer in charge of the three Wapitis, about to take-off from Point Cooke with Aerial Gunner V. J. Scott.

27/11/29 AS-15